TEN PAGES

It has been observed that most politicians drawn into judging at baby shows are foxy enough to kiss all the youngsters but decline to pick a winner.

Ohio's twenty-second congressman, created by the new apportionment to be made by congress, may be elected at large next year, according to a ruling by Attorney General Hogan.

Indications are that John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker now serving a sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., will be paroled about the middle of next month, the way having been cleared by having indictments hanging over him quashed by U. S. Attorney Sims.

Members of the Ohio legislature are holding their annual reunion at Cedar Point. Some Ohio Assemblymen have not enjoyed great peace of mind for several months and possibly at this outing they may forget the troubles that have beset them and more to follow.

And now comes word from Columbus that the one per cent Smith tax law has failed to bring much personal property from hiding, contrary to expectations. It is also claimed that some of the loudest talking reformers in Franklin county are the worst offenders, their personal property showing absolute failure to reform themselves while trying to reform others.

Col. W. J. Bryan in an interview the other day remarked that he did not regard Gov. Harmon of Ohio an available presidential candidate at this time. He may have reason to change his notions a little later on. Indications now are that the democratic national ticket will read Harmon and Wilson or Wilson and Harmon, chances favoring the first form.

Petitions for township and municipal offices must be filed with the clerk of the board of deputy supervisors of elections in Youngstown by Saturday of this week, as the law requires that such petitions be on file 30 days previous to the nominating election which will be held Tuesday, Sept. 5. Tardy candidates will need stir their stumps in getting petitions to the county-seat.

Representative Bathrick of Akron, democratic congressman from the 19th district, made his maiden speech in the house last week and is credited with having cut loose for fair against the trusts, declaring that the greatest need of the times is for congress to settle for all time that the government is stronger than big business. Industrial combines must be curbed. And Mr. Bathrick is right.

After being dry nearly three years under the provisions of the Rose local option law the wets in eight Ohio counties are becoming active in again submitting the question to the voters. The counties in which movement has been or will be made are Wyandot, Perry, Hocking, Licking, Muskingum, Jefferson, Columbiana and Belmont. The Anti-Saloon League is organizing for the fight in all of these counties.

That Col. W. J. Bryan's grip on democratic national politics is slipping was manifested Wednesday when Representative Oscar Underwood of Alabama, leader of the house democrats, was cheered to the echo as he denounced Mr. Bryan for the utterance of a series of alleged falsehoods concerning him. This was Underwood's second attack on Bryan during the present session of congress.

George P. Fry, prosecuting attorney in Ashland county, known as the "blacksmith lawyer," is making strenuous efforts to break up what he calls the lawyer's trust in his county. It is alleged that when a case affording fat picking presented itself the trust lost no time in getting next. Two honored judges over 70 years old were indicted for alleged irregularities and one of them is under two years' sentence but still fighting against serving it.

A Generous Man.

"Here's the electric fan for your private office, Mr. Stinjay. Where do you want it?"

"Place it so that some of the breeze will go through the keyhole into the next room. I like to make my clerks as comfortable as I can."—Courier-Journal.

YOUNGSTOWN

Little or nothing is heard or seen in print now in regard to the famous ship canal, that not long ago one would have imagined would be in operation at last when the next snow flies. But of course little is doing now in the torrid season in any great local project if you except the steel plants, which are reported to be on the eve of expending nearly $4,000,000 in extensions and improvements. These steel plants are the greatest and best things that ever happened in this city in a labor and wage way, giving employment as they do to thousands. And they have lately added materially to the population of the city, a big office force of experts and first class men coming here from Pittsburgh to become permanent residents. There are no more desirable citizens than they are and you may be sure they will be made very welcome by the industrial and social classes of the city.

It is said around here that Hon. David Tod, the popular state senator, is the principal owner now of the Telegram, the report to that effect being made we believe in the local Socialist Press that is so hotly edited by Thomas Williams, who goes after them all like a house afire. That is easy enough but whether it is just a house of another color. And one thing is sure you can seldom if ever make converts to your cause or creed by heaping abuse on those you seek to sway or convert or reform. You can't convince a man by kicking or clubbing him.

It is charged, and it appears with truth, there is graft in the matter of the removal of the city's garbage and its burning in the crematory. So much a ton is paid for the removal and burning of the stuff and it is alleged by good citizens that often the garbage-wagon beds are well supplied with water, and that sure goes for to swell the weight. A number of citizens have repeatedly called attention to the matter, but what council will do if anything is problematical.

As the time is short now in which to file candidate petitions the number of candidates is much on the increase. You can hardly pick up a daily these days without seeing an announcement, the most of them republicans, though it is held by no small number that there never were brighter prospects in this city for democratic nominees.

It must be a honor, Mayor Allen W. Craver, and George J. Renner to see the way they are coupled in one of the weekly newspapers. It is likely the men who seek to reflect on the mayor through Renner would be glad to be the friends and companions of either if they could.

John Strachan, the democratic war horse, is not doing much paying up of the earth these days and is not heard to much, but you may safely bet after the tickets are in the field John'll be right on deck with neatness and dispatch.

Many of the apples brought into town and to the market now are sweet. There is inquiry for the red astrachans, but they appear to be nearly scarce. The sweets have been selling for 70 cents a bushel. So far the bulk of the sweet corn brought in has been immature and insipid.

There will be some very fine band music in the public parks next Sunday.

W. K. Thompson, 55 years old, formerly of Hubbard, more lately of East Liverpool, was arrested in this city last week charged with bigamy. It is alleged that he married a wealthy Liverpool girl without the formality of a divorce after deserting his wife in Hubbard. He has been married four times and it is supposed his first two wives are either dead or divorced.

The state tax commission has boosted the valuation of the M. V. electric railway company 600 per cent, or from $524,184 to $3,209,000. The company kicks on the commission placing values on Idora and Cascade parks and on land occupied by power houses, claiming that should be left to the county taxing board.

When the big wholesale grocery building of the John H. Fitch Co. on Wick avenue was closed last Saturday for the afternoon holiday a solution to destroy millers was used and in instructions issued that no one enter the structure. Clyde Messerly, a watchman, 28 years old, went into building, presumably to get his clothes, and was overcome by the deadly fumes of the muratic acid. P. Q. McBride, who attempted to rescue Messerly, as well as John H. Fitch, head of the big concern, were also overcome and barely escaped with their lives. McBride was taken to the hospital and Mr. Fitch to his home. The latter was able to attend to business Monday. Messerly, who lost his life, formerly lived in North Lima, and the remains were taken to that village for burial.

Albert Elton of this city is learning to be a bird man and will shortly make a flight here in a Wright airship.

Attorney G. B. Smith was struck and knocked down by an automobile on Public Square Monday evening and painfully injured.

After a family far Tuesday morning Mrs. Howard Thomas, wife of a M. V. street car conductor, attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid. A physician saved her life.

The Loyal Order of Moose will hold a street carnival in this city the week beginning August 28.

J. W. Kale of Leontonia was struck by a P. & L. E. train Monday evening and badly hurt.

An automobile driven by A. C. Keller and occupied by R. L. Davis and sister Mary of Wampum, Pa., was struck by a street car Sunday afternoon and wrecked. The occupants of the auto were thrown out and Miss Davis was probably fatally injured.

John Corrigan, a railroad engineer, was arrested Sunday charged with attempting to assault a five-year-old girl of the name of Williams in Lincoln park. Several people watched the man and when an officer arrived he was finally landed in jail.

Burglars cracked the safe in H. J. Reno's butcher shop in Releca street early Sunday morning and secured more than $300 in cash and checks.

Clyde Froom, aged 15, was knocked down by an automobile in the Diamond Sunday afternoon and painfully injured. The boy's mother was taken to the hospital the same day and died. Mr. Froom, grandfather of the boy, died Saturday.

Our soldier boys are home from Chicago.

L. C. Bruce, who married Miss Julia Andrews, daughter of the late C. H. Andrews, is dead of apoplexy at Greenwich, Conn., aged 62. His wife and two children survive him.

The county commissioners on Monday awarded Frank Stouffer the contract to grade the East Lewistown hill, his bid being $23c per cubic yard.

Attorney General Hogan will deliver an address in this city on Labor Day.

According to the Telegram it is not difficult to secure booze in this city on Sunday, it being charged that several well known places make no concealment of keeping open house on the first day of the week.

Fire in Phil Swartz' tailor shop Tuesday night trapped August Wolt and Earl Bryson and they narrowly escaped with their lives. It is not known how the fire started.

James Mackey, the city's greatest benefactor, has donated four more lots on Delaware avenue for playground purposes.

The commissioners have fixed Dr. L. A. Wagner's salary as deputy sealer of weights and measures at $100 per month, and he is to work only three months in the year.

Jos. Milham has sued the Masonic Temple Co. for $25,000, balance claimed due on contract to build the temple.

Henry Kimmel, pioneer resident of Colville township, died last Thursday, aged 83. Funeral services were held Saturday.

Candidates blossom in this city every minute. The trouble seems to be that there are not enough offices to go 'round.

AUSTINTOWN

August 2—Creed Brothers threshed 70 bushels of timothy seed for J. S. Moherman the other day.

Earl Corli and wife attended a picnic at Rock Point, Saturday.

The 30th annual reunion of the Osborn family will be held at Idora park Thursday, August 17. All relatives and friends are invited.

Misses Hazel and Henrietta Moherman, Neva Corli and Cella Miller spent Saturday at Idora park.

Myron Wirt of North Lima and Florentine Kistler and family of Haselton were among the Sunday callers.

Services were held in the Union church last Thursday and Sunday evenings.

Mrs. Leander Moherman and daughter and Miss Cella Miller attended a picnic at Southern park one day last week.

OHLTOWN

Aug. 2—Miss Anna Squires of Cleveland concluded a six weeks' visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Miles, Wednesday. Miss Emily Shively accompanied Miss Squires and will be her guest for a week.

SALEM

A surprise party was given Mrs. Frank Gibbons Sunday, July 23, it being her 59th birthday. All her children were present as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woods and son of Youngstown, Mrs. Jennie Corli and children of West Austintown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGowan of Canfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gibbons, and little son, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gibbons and children, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McElidowney and little son, and Mr. and Mrs. Beatrice Gibbons of Salem. The day was spent in auto rides and a family reunion. Mrs. Gibbons received many valuable presents. Mr. Gibbons, who has been an invalid for the past six years, is able to be around in a wheel chair.

Dr. Hawkins of Leontonia has purchased the dental business of Dr. Deemer in this city.

Mrs. Rachel Stanley, long a great sufferer from rheumatism, died Monday night, aged 75 years. She was born in North Benton and spent most of her life there. Funeral services were held Wednesday forenoon in the Goshen M. E. Church and burial was in the Goshen cemetery.

Frank Mercer and Ed. Snyder are candidates for the republican nomination for mayor to oppose Mayor Al who will no doubt be renominated by the democrats.

A band of gypsies that was hanging around this locality was ordered Tuesday to move on as their presence was no longer desired.

Mike Flum, a foreigner employed at the Sanitary plant, was struck by a train Sunday night and badly hurt.

The new switch-board in the Bell telephone exchange was placed in commission last Saturday and improved service is noted.

A. H. Kennedy resigned as township clerk and F. J. Eckstein was appointed to succeed him for the unexpired term.

A great crowd attended the union Sunday school picnic last Thursday at Lake park.

Herbert Lora of Yankee Crossing was caught by a cave-in of a sand bank on the Shinn farm, northwest of the city, one day last week, and received painful injuries.

Mr. J. Grable returned home last Sunday from his trip to the Pacific coast, having been a delegate to a Christian church conference.

During his absence he visited more than 9,000 miles. His parishioners were more than pleased to welcome him back.

Dallas Miller, a civil war veteran and one of the oldest residents of this city, died Saturday, aged 73. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon and the body was laid to rest with G. A. R. honors in Hope cemetery.

Geo. McArthur may be a candidate for the democratic nomination for mayor and Mayor Al and his following do not take kindly to the notion.

A request has been made that all voters of the city close next week Wednesday when the annual merchant's picnic will be held at Myers' lake near Canton.

The work of paving the McKinley avenue extension is rapidly progressing.

A couple of fellows were here the other day giving away lots said to be near an Oklahoma city. As usual there was a string to the gift, and those who got tickets may find that the lots are dear enough at the price paid for them.

The high school athletic association will have a first-class football team on the gridiron next fall.

Spencer & Son have sold their milk business to William and Orville Whinnery who will shortly move their families to the city.

The lines are tightening for the wet and dry fight soon to come off in this county. The wets are taking a poll of the county and if anything like 50 per cent of the voters are in the wet column an election will be called under the Rose law. The dries appear to feel certain that old Columbiana will remain in the dry column despite the desperate kicking of the wets.

A smooth salesman pulled the wool over the eyes of several local dressmakers and tailors about the middle of last month. He showed a fine line of samples supposed to be made by a New York firm and got orders, and the cash, too. But the goods purchased have not been received and probably never will be.

FIVE PER CENT.

III

Another reason for our FIVE PER CENT is the careful management of the Company's affairs by the Board of Directors. Weekly meetings of the Board are held. All loans are passed upon and all bills approved by them before the money is paid out. There is no chance for carelessness or extravagance. By careful management and reasonable expenses, many dollars are saved during the year.
